

Quality Beef Patties

When both healthfulness and cost consideration are musts, Holten Meat's Quality Beef Patties fill the bill. Our Quality Beef Patties are made from flavorful, lean ground beef and textured vegetable protein. Since they contain soy protein, they're lower in fat and cholesterol while still having lots of protein. They're economical and convenient to serve, with plenty of good beef flavor and texture.

You'll find Quality Beef Patties to be a good source of nutrition with plenty of that rich beef taste that everyone likes. An excellent value designed with both your health and bottom line in mind.

All Holten products are fresh frozen from quality ingredients at Holten's state of the art processing facility to lock in their great taste and freshness. Holten products provide the end-user with consistent portion control, product safety, ease of handling and cooking, and great taste! Try them and see why Holten is the choice of many restaurants, theme parks, cafeterias, and other food-service institutions.
